Intro:

What is the South Yorkshire and Bassetlaw Sustainability and Transformation Plan (STP)?

Over the last 12 months, all health and care organisations across the region have worked together to develop a vision and a set of priorities to address a number of challenges and improve the health and wellbeing of people in South Yorkshire and Bassetlaw.

The Plan is made up of five local plans – referred to as ‘place’ plans. Each place plan has been developed by local doctors, hospital chief executives, clinical commissioners, council officers and patient and voluntary sector groups.

Reasons why change is needed, include:

• Care can sometimes be disjointed from one service to another because our hospitals, care homes, general practices and community services don’t always work as closely as they should.
• Some people are admitted to hospital beds who could be cared for in the community if the right support was in place. There are growing waiting times for many services and access to primary care needs to be better.
• There are new drugs and ways of treating people - including ever advancing technology
People are living longer than ever before, which means we are treating more people into their later years. This means there is higher demand for NHS services.

There won’t be enough money - if we don't change the way we work now, we will have a gap in funding of £571 million by 2020

Some illnesses we treat can be prevented by having support to live healthily (for example, by not smoking or drinking too much alcohol)

For all the reasons above, the people involved in the South Yorkshire and Bassetlaw STP think that the time is right to work together to develop new ways of providing services in your local area and also across the region.

3. Do you think there are any challenges that have been missed?
Based on their knowledge and experience of working in the NHS and social care, the leaders involved have developed a big ambition and some ideas about what could be done differently.

The ambition is:

For everyone in South Yorkshire and Bassetlaw to have a great start in life, supporting them to stay healthy and live longer.

4. Do you think this is the right ambition for health and care organisations?

   Yes

   No

   Not sure

5. Do you think anything has been missed?
To support the ambition of improving health and care for everyone in South Yorkshire and Bassetlaw, we think we need to look at (in no specific order):

1. Reducing inequalities for all, helping people to live well and stay well for longer
2. Joining up health and care services, so they respond better to people’s needs
3. Spending more money on care in communities, focusing on local healthcare centres
4. Treating and caring for people’s mental and physical health
5. Making hospital care the same for everyone, everywhere
6. Making the urgent and emergency care simpler so that it’s easier for people to get care
7. Developing a workforce in the right place and with the right skills
8. Using technology to support people to be well at home, manage their own care and for staff to be connected better
9. Having health and care services that are funded long term
10. Working with people, staff and communities to make all this happen

6. Do you think these ideas are the right ones?
   Yes
   No
   Some but not all

If some but not all, which ones:

---

7. Do you think anything has been missed?

   Yes
   No

NHS leaders are already looking at some changes to services in South Yorkshire and Bassetlaw and recently carried out public consultations on hyper acute stroke services and out of hours children's surgery and anaesthesia.

In the future they may have to look at other changes to make sure they are providing high quality and sustainable services across the region, on which they would again hold full public consultation.

9. Given the challenges outlined and the NHS’ commitment to working together for improved health and social care, do you agree that they and us need to work differently and potentially change the way we provide some services?

Yes ☐
No ☐
It depends ☐
